Book Club Picnic

The second annual picnic of the West Jackson street Book Club was held Friday evening at Simpson Park.

A sumptuous covered dish supper was served by the members of the ladies auxiliary at seven o'clock, after which the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. Jesse M. Worley was elected president and Clifford H. Irvin, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. R. E. Stepp was the unanimous choice of the ladies as president of the auxiliary.

Frank C. Lang acted as toastmaster and delighted the members and guests with his clever introductions of the several speakers of the evening chief among whom was the newly elected president, Mr. Worley.

After supper, the members and guests adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howard on west Calhoun street, where the regular weekly book game was held.

The following members and guests attended the picnic and book party:

Miss Daisy Worley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Copeland, Larry Copeland, Artie Joy Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Brown, Miss Dottie Jane Brown, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stepp, Bobbie Stepp, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McNabb, Miss Jo Ann McNabb, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Parsons, Herb Parsons, Jr., and Donnie Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Tucker, Miss Helen Lee Tucker, Miss Bettie Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winans, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howard, Miss Connie Ray Howard.

The following attended as guests of the club: Miss Karmelita Peters, Miss Heien Hills, Mrs. J. W. Spears of Leavenworth, Kansas.

Mrs. L. W. Brown won the prize offered for the best cake brought to the picnic. Roy Copeland carried off the honors in the potato race for men.

Honored Mrs. Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haffing of 809 Vine street entertained Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Susie K. Robertson. Mrs. Robertson left last night for her home in Osceola, Nebraska.

WM Entertain Guests

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Watton of East Jackson street will have as their guests during the Legion Convention, Col. and Mrs. E. M. Stayton of Independence. Col. Stayton is a past State Commander of the American Legion.

Honored Son.

Mrs. Sam Babb entertained thirty-five little guests with a birthday party honoring her small son Sammy's fourth birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent in playing games and contests in which little Patty Lou Callaway and Bob Babb won prizes. At five o'clock the little guests were invited into a beautiful decorated dining room for refreshments. The color scheme was carried out in pink and white.

To Honor Mother.

Mrs. Catherine Berry of Trenton and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton and Mrs. B. H. Paramore of this city will entertain with a birthday dinner at Simpson Park Sunday, honoring their mother, Mrs. M. J. Best. The occasion will be in celebration of her 81st birthday.

Honored Women Visitors.

The women attending the State Convention of the American Legion next week will be the honor guests at several delightful functions which the members of the local chapter of the women's auxiliary have planned. Mrs. Henry S. Beardsley, who is president of the Chillicothe chapter, announces that following an automobile drive over the city Monday afternoon, a tea will be given at the Campbell Country Club. Mrs. Russell Barnett and her committee are in charge of arrangements for the drive, with Mrs. Joseph J. Shy and committee serving as hostesses at the tea. On Tuesday afternoon, the visitors will be entertained at the Chillicothe Country Club with a bridge party. Mrs. Joseph D. Stewart is chairman of the committee that has this affair in charge.

Gave Farewell Dinner.

Miss Ann Joiner of Havana, Arkansas, who has been attending school here, was given a surprise dinner last night by a group of young women at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brockman. Miss Joiner leaves today for her home. Those present were: Velma Robbins, Mildred Epperson, Helen Ford of St. Joseph, Laura Robbins of Kansas City, and Lucille Yahns.

Menus for the Family

BY GERTIE MARY.

A particularly delicate meat dish for summer is the sweetbread. It is very light and easy to digest and combines deliciously with other materials. This last happy faculty makes it possible to use a quite small amount to serve several people.

As soon as sweetbreads are brought from the market, they should be put into cold water to completely cover them. Use two teaspoons of salt to a quart of water. If the breads are bloody they should stand in water until clear changing the water several times. Then drop them into rapidly boiling water, adding two tablespoons of lemon juice or vinegar and one teaspoon of salt to calves' breads for 20 minutes and beef breads for 35 minutes. Drain from boiling water and plunge into cold water. This keeps them white and firm.

When cold, remove all membrane that is loose and any bits of fat or other material that may be attached to the bread. The sweetbreads are now ready to use in any preferred fashion.

Calves' Breads Most Tender

While calves' breads are the more delicate and tender, beef breads can be used satisfactorily and are much cheaper in price. Beef breads have the same flavor, a little more strongly accented, perhaps, but appetizing and pleasant. They require longer cooking to make them tender, for they are naturally less tender than calves' breads.

Sweetbreads are in two parts and are usually sold together in what is called a "pair". The round, compact part is the heart bread and is the more desirable. The long, loose part is the throat bread. One pair is calculated to serve four persons with other material being added.

Mushrooms and pears are traditional with sweetbreads, but other vegetables are good. When the breads are used in a salad, cucumbers combine excellently. Sweet peppers, tomatoes and carrots are good in made dishes.

Sweetbreads make a delicious change from chicken for party menus and are as generally liked. Sweetbreads à la King, sweetbreads mousse, sweetbread timbales, creamed sweetbreads and peas in party shells, sweetbreads and mushrooms en brochette, sweetbreads in tomato aspic—the ways to use them are innumerable and they are all truly delicious.

More Than 4000 Farm Families in Two States Need Aid

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The Kansas City Journal-Post said today at least 4,125 farm families of Missouri and Kansas will require outside financial aid to help them through the winter as the result of drought and depression.

This report, the Newspaper said, was based upon a survey from county and community farm experts whose reports will be forwarded to secretary of agriculture Hyde.

Most of the aid must come in the form of outside money to aid in buying farm equipment, fuel and clothing, the paper said. None reported serious food problems.

However, some farmers of southern Missouri may be forced to keep their children out of school this fall for lack of proper clothing, the survey showed.

Missouri was hit harder than Kansas by the drought, according to the Journal-Post, and the severest blow was felt in southeast Missouri.

While rains of the past two weeks aided materially, the survey showed financial aid remained the outstanding demand. Higher hog prices will aid some sections and dairymen with modern silos may salvage most of their corn crop.

"The financial situation in the stricken areas unquestionably is the greatest problem," the newspaper reported. "In most cases farmers already have borrowed on anticipated crops and livestock all the money local credit will advance. With further loans based upon crops and stocks as security virtually impossible, the question of credit becomes the most important."

DEMOCRATS OF TEXAS NOMINATE GOVERNOR TODAY

Bitter Fight Between Ma Ferguson and Ross S. Sterling Is Being Waged By Supporters

A HEAVY VOTE IS ANTICIPATED

Nomination Today Is Equivalent to Election In November; Both Sides Claim Victory

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 23.—(UP)—R. S. Sterling held a 2 to 1 lead over Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in his home county today. With the heaviest vote in Harris county's history indicated, the early count gave Sterling 5,637 and Ferguson 2,668.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Nine hundred thousand voters will decide today between Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, championed by her husband "Farmer Jim" as the "candidate of the common people," and Ross S. Sterling, Houston millionaire publisher, in the run-off of the Democratic gubernatorial primary election.

Both sides expressed confidence in election. Sterling, in a speech last night at Galveston, forecast his majority at no less than 100,000.

"Fa" Ferguson, who stumped the state thoroughly for his wife, said her majority would be more than 250,000.

The Sterling cause was strongly upheld by Gov. Dan Moody, who was attorney general during Mrs. Ferguson's former administration and overwhelmingly defeated her for a second term.

The Ferguson's centered their campaign attack on the "big business" methods of the Houston candidate. They charged he has "lost the common touch" during his years as a millionaire.

Mrs. Ferguson promised duplication of her former administration, announcing her intention of liberating at least 2,000 convicts from the state penitentiary. She waged a strong campaign for prohibition and economy in state operation.

The business training decried by the Ferguson was offered by Sterling as a reason for his election. He rose from the ranks of a freight-bait helper and village merchant to owner of a large and powerful newspaper, and vowed that experience, he said, would enable him to run the governor's office more efficiently.

The Democratic nomination in Texas is considered tantamount to election this year, as it is thought there is little danger that democrats will repeat their performance of 1928 in bolting to the opposite party.

Aimee Disinherited By Her Mother

She Also Struck Angelus Temple From Her Will, Charging It Was "Corrupt."

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Charging that Angelus Temple was "corrupt," Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Mrs. Aimee McPherson, noted evangelist, today disinherited the temple and her daughter by striking them from her will.

Mrs. McPherson was advised by her mother to give up Angelus Temple "because it is so corrupt." She was urged to rebuild her four square gospel in new surroundings to get away from the temple's "corrupt" atmosphere.

"It would be better for sister to give up Angelus Temple and go far into the desert and build anew than to remain under the control of her present associates," Mrs. Kennedy said from her cottage at Brentwood sanitarium.

Bombing Continues In K. C. Dairy War

Shed of Herman Peterson Dairy Near Harrisonville Bombed Today During Boycott

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 23.—(UP)—A bombing marked Kansas City's milk strike again today.

The milk shed of the Herman Peterson dairy near Harrisonville, Mo., was blasted early today apparently by sympathizers of rural milk producers who seek to prevent trucking of milk to Kansas City wholesale plants. They have set up a boycott for higher wholesale prices.

The telephone line to Peterson's home was cut.

Additional reports of the dumping of milk trucks en route to Kansas City markets filtered in. A truck of the Campbell dairy of Kansas City was halted and dumped near Harrisonville after its driver and guard had been chased from the carrier.

Bill Haines In Western Comedy Role

Film Shows Haines as Cowpuncher and Con Man in Good Laugh Plot at Strand Sunday

"Way Out West" is the title of the picture in which the wise-cracking Haines is starred in and from all reports he really gives you something to laugh about.

As a con man he rims a lot of cowboys out of their money. They find out he has cheated them and take him out to their ranch where he is supposed to work it out.

"They all take turns at working him." Even the boss' sister—a pretty blond (Leila Hyams) takes her turn, but some how or other she falls for this tenderfoot under whose smart aleck ways she sees something worth while.

"The close of the picture is really myrth provoking winding up in some fast chase comedy in which Haines chases Indians and the cowboys chase Haines and finally he runs away only to find that all is forgiven.

The theme song of the picture is almost pleasing one being "Singing a Song to the Stars."

Cliff Edwards and Polly Moran have heavy roles in the picture.

"Accidents will Happen" will lead the short features for the evening with Fox Movie Tone News.

BIGGEST OUTDOOR SET BUILT FOR "ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT"

Coming to the Strand Theatre Tuesday For Three Days

The largest outdoor set ever made at Universal City. Larger even than the gigantic cathedral used in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" was built for "All Quiet" in the picture.

The building was more than 300 feet high at its peak. Hundreds of tons of gravel were used in making the parade ground covering several acres.

For the scene at a French Village where three of Remarque's schoolboys swim a canal to meet three French girls. There was a canal a half mile in length 40 feet in width, 15 feet in depth.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" has two thousand ex-service men in war scenes.

WILLIAM HAINES and LEILA HYAMS in "WAY OUT WEST"

Leila Hyams and Bill Haines as they appear in the late Metro release "Way Out West." This picture is of a most laughable sort giving Haines plenty of room for his myrth provoking comedy of which we all know he is quite capable. This is the feature for the Strand Sunday and Monday.

Edmund Lowe in "Good Intentions" feature for Strand Sept. 30th

Something "different" in the way of crook pictures is offered in "Good Intentions," the exciting Fox movietone production playing at the Strand theatre next week. In writing the original story as well as in the direction, William K. Howard has deviated considerably from the customary roughneck gangster tale and has presented a clever group of international crooks, well dressed and well poised, as the collective menace of the picture.

Edmund Lowe, as the leader of the group, encounters the obstacles that motivate the story when he decides to live down his past and go straight. His former associates provide the obstacles and his partial overcoming of them gives rise to an unusually interesting screen plot. Marguerite Churchill, Regis Toomey, Owen Davis, Jr., and Hale Hamilton are the other featured players.
